

PANIC BRINGS UNVEILING TO SUDDEN HALT

Frenzied Crowd Rushed to See President's Daughter

CONGRESSMAN HAD TO FIGHT WAY OUT

Police Unable to Cope With 50,000 People and Speeches Were Delayed.

SENATOR DANIEL WAS ONE OF CHIEF ORATORS

Delivers Notable Address, in Which He Paid High Tribute to Martyred President. Mrs. McKinley Unable to Be Present.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 14.—With much trembling, a crowd of some persons gathered at a station in Chicago, to see the unveiling of the statue of William McKinley, the President of the United States, who was assassinated in Buffalo, N. Y., on September 6, 1901. The statue, which was unveiled at 10 o'clock, was a masterpiece of art, and the unveiling was a most impressive affair. The statue was unveiled by the unveiling committee, which was headed by the Hon. Charles D. Walcott, Secretary of the unveiling committee. The unveiling was a most impressive affair, and the statue was unveiled with much ceremony. The unveiling was a most impressive affair, and the statue was unveiled with much ceremony.

Fought Way Out.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth had an exciting experience in escaping from the crowd. From the speakers stand they went through a window overlooking the platform, and the crowd, which was so dense that it was impossible to get through, was so dense that it was impossible to get through. The crowd was so dense that it was impossible to get through. The crowd was so dense that it was impossible to get through.

Speech of Daniel.

Memorial Hall tonight was filled with people. The speakers were William B. Day, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; John W. Daniel, United States Senator from Virginia; General Joseph M. McKim, of Brooklyn, N. Y., national commander of the United Veterans' League; and General R. H. Brown, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mrs. McKinley was unable to attend the unveiling, but she was represented by her daughter, Miss McKinley, who was accompanied by her husband, Senator Daniel.

Death of McKinley.

"When he rose to speak at the Buffalo Exposition, September 5, 1901, his fondest hope had become reality, for all his countrymen felt that they were Americans."

Death of McKinley.

"When he rose to speak at the Buffalo Exposition, September 5, 1901, his fondest hope had become reality, for all his countrymen felt that they were Americans."

Death of McKinley.

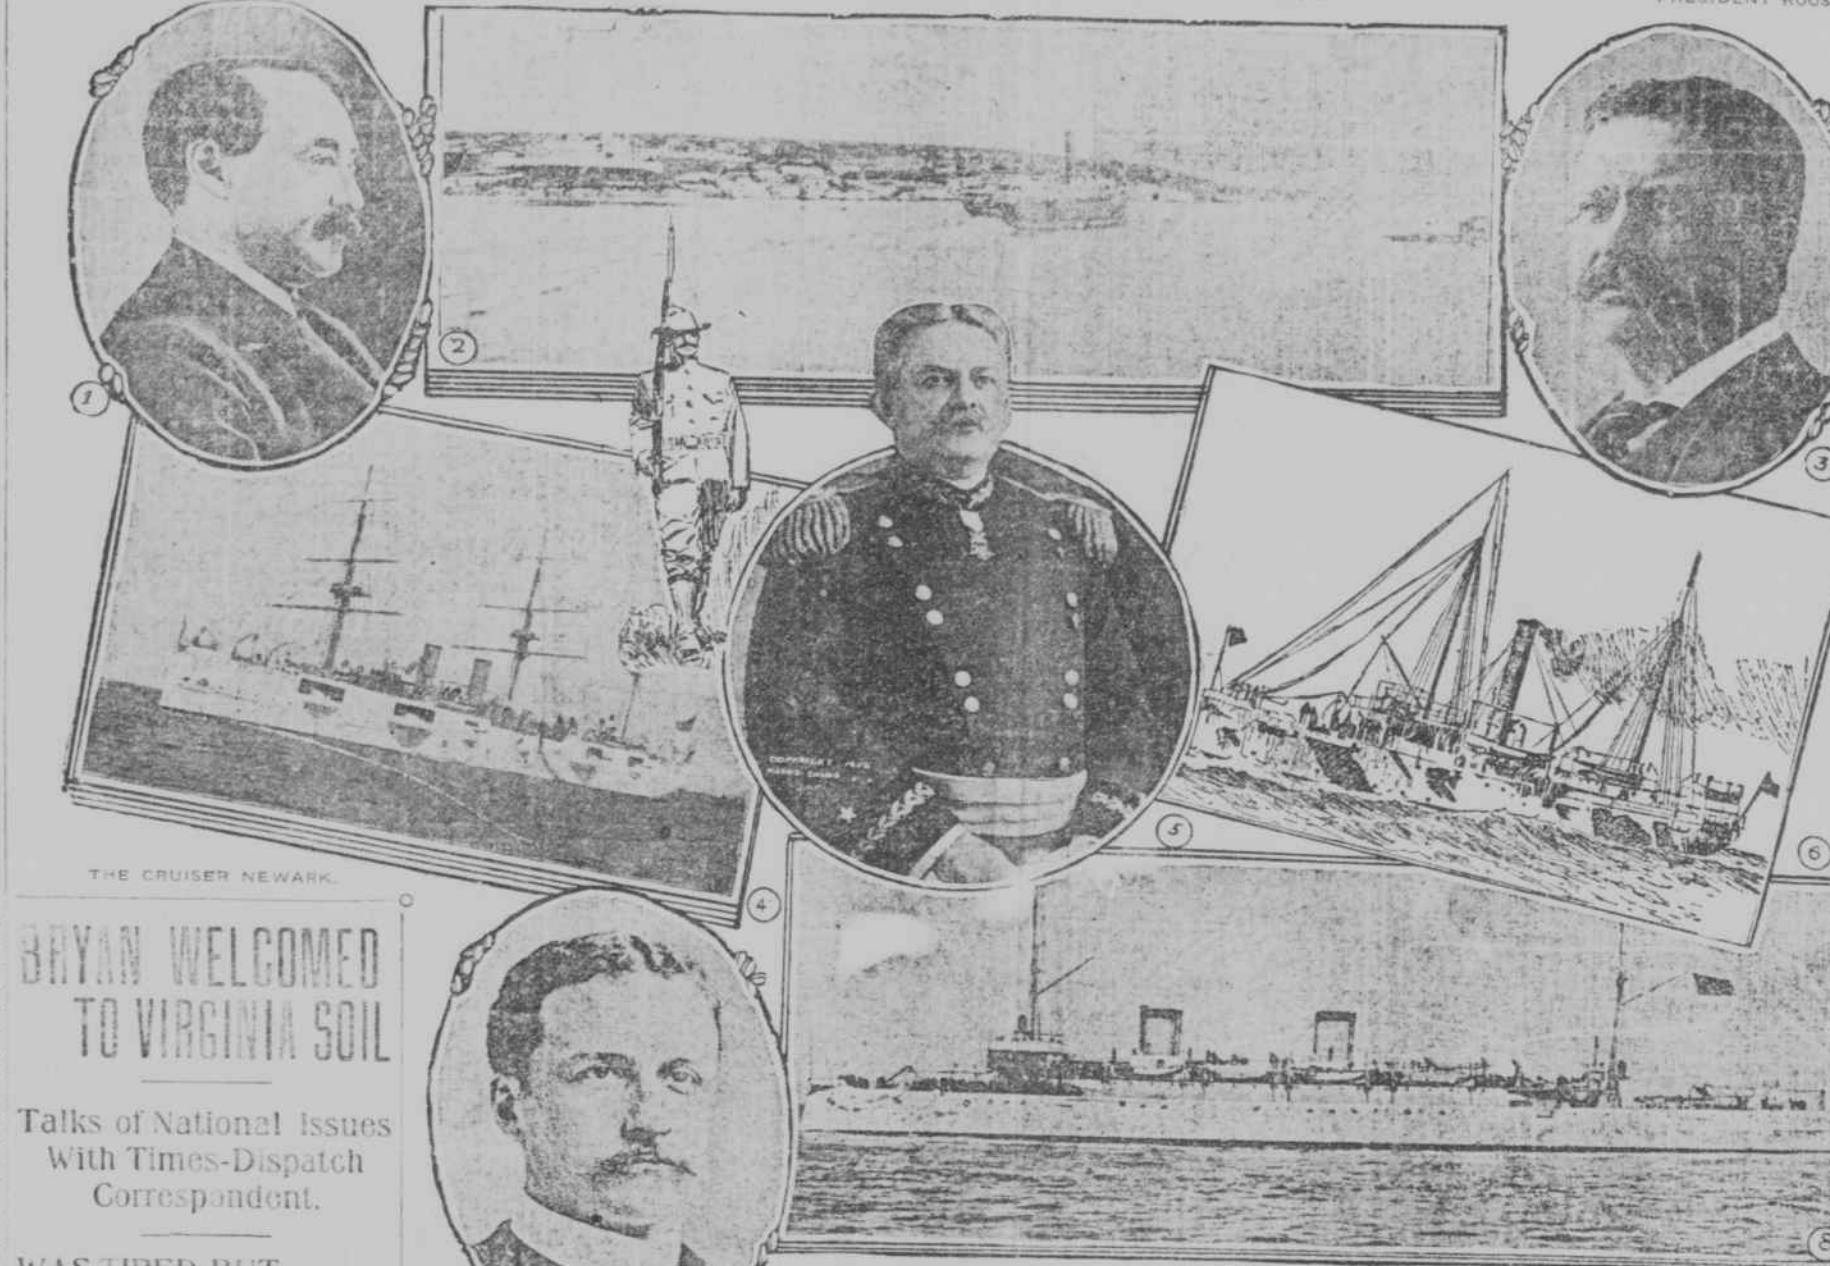

"When he rose to speak at the Buffalo Exposition, September 5, 1901, his fondest hope had become reality, for all his countrymen felt that they were Americans."

Death of McKinley.

"When he rose to speak at the Buffalo Exposition, September 5, 1901, his fondest hope had become reality, for all his countrymen felt that they were Americans."

MEN AND SHIPS AND A CITY NOW PROMINENT IN THE CUBAN COMPLICATION

THE CITY OF CIENFUEGOS AS SEEN FROM THE HARBOR. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

GENERAL BELL. MARIETTA AND MINNEAPOLIS.

COAST LINES IN RATE CONFERENCE

Representatives of Steamship Companies Meet Interstate Commerce Commission. TRYING FOR AGREEMENT. Deny Authority of Commission. But Desire to Reach Understanding.

PRESIDENT DRINKS TOAST TO KAISER

Mr. Roosevelt Places Himself on Record as Supporting Amateur Sports. OYSTER BAY, N. Y., September 14.—President Roosevelt placed himself on record as an enthusiastic supporter of amateur sports. He also took occasion to make a new link of friendship between the United States and Germany.

INVESTIGATION MAY BE REOPENED

Senator Sadler Has Called Eastern State Hospital Committee to Meet Monday. Some Members Desire Postponement Until October—Chairman Earnestly Objects.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER THROWN FROM BUGGY

Miss Ethel Not Hurt and Insisted on Driving Horse Back Home. OYSTER BAY, N. Y., September 14.—While driving from Sagamore Hill to Oyster Bay today, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of the President, was thrown out of her buggy, her horse becoming frightened at an automobile. The accident occurred near the residence of E. T. Farn, where Miss Ethel stopped for a few moments to regain her composure. She was not hurt and insisted on having her horse harnessed to another buggy, and kept on driving back to Sagamore Hill.

OMINOUS NOTE FROM PORTE CAUSES STIR

PARIS, September 14.—In a formal note to France and other powers, Turkey draws attention to the warlike preparations which are going on in Bulgaria. She points out that suddenly and without reason Bulgaria has called the reserves to the colors and that rifle drill is being conducted with activity in the small forts. While it is declared that this note makes no allusion to retaliatory steps on the part of Turkey, this formal notification from the Porte is regarded as ominous.

MR. AND MRS. ASTOR WILL REACH RICHMOND MONDAY

Mr. and Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, who have been spending the past two weeks with Mrs. Astor's father, Colonel Charles D. Longworth, at "Mirador," will reach Richmond on Monday, when they will be the guests of Mr. T. Moncure Perkins, on West Franklin Street.

Hotel Burned.

OTTAWA, ONT., September 14.—The Gilman Hotel was destroyed by fire to-night. It is feared several lives have been lost.

PRESIDENT WARNS CUBA, SENDS TAFT

Secretary of War Will Leave To-Morrow For Havana

WILL INTERVENE IF DISORDERS CONTINUE

Bluejackets Are Recalled, But Government Stands Ready to Act at Once.

CIENFUEGOS SAID TO BE IN HANDS OF INSURGENTS

Cuban Congress Meets in Extra Session, Confers Additional Powers on Palma, and Takes Steps to Push Fight to Bitter End.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.

President's Warning to Cuban Government

"I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together, to sink all differences and personal ambitions, and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by resisting it from the anarchy of civil war." The President's warning to the Cuban government was a most impressive one. He declared that the United States would not intervene in the Cuban situation unless the Cuban government failed to maintain order and peace. He also declared that the United States would not recognize any government that was established by force.